A lightbulb above you gives 100 W energy in form of light. The light consists to equal parts of of blue and red light (λ=500nm and 800nm). How many photons to "fall" on you per second?

(Tip: Calculate frequencies of both EM-waves; Energy per each photon; Number of photons emitted from the light bulb)

red   blue